

Policy support for photovoltaic panels for self-built houses

Overview

This toolkit presents a high-level overview of federal and state policies and programs with an impact on solar energy development. 1 (c)14 - PDF of the 2025 Energy Code requires solar photovoltaic (solar PV) systems or modules for all newly constructed single-family residential buildings, with five exceptions (see accordion describing exceptions below). These are defined as: These requirements do not apply to. A renewable energy certificate (REC) is a market-based instrument that represents the property rights to the environmental, social, and other non-power attributes of renewable electricity generation. Solar RECs (SRECs) are created for each megawatt-hour of electricity generated from solar energy. State solar regulations generally fall into three key categories: installation requirements, financial incentives, and utility connection policies. It does not constitute professional tax advice or other professional financial guidance.
