

Small solar power generation for home use in Madagascar

Overview

Powered by renewable energy, the mini-grids set up by WeLight provide residents in off-grid rural villages with access to clean, affordable and reliable energy, at work and at home. That's true even after dark, because the WeLight system includes a battery that's charged during the day. Madagascar's rugged landscapes and limited grid infrastructure make outdoor power solutions essential for businesses, travelers, and remote communities. In September 2019, The sales people of. The French development NGO GRET has launched a solar electrification project in Madagascar, part of its ongoing commitment to reducing energy poverty and promoting renewable energy. This ambitious initiative aims to provide affordable, sustainable energy to rural communities, improving living. Other solar home systems are mainly designed just to provide basic power for lighting and phone charging. WeLight's system is more powerful.
